MASSIVE FLEETS OF ALLIED AIRCRAFT BLAST AT ENEMY STRONGHOLDS FROM KIEL IN NORTH TO NAPLES IN SOUTH

OVERHUNDRED TONSDROPPED ON AXIS BASE

Twenty-One Ships Reported
Hit in Mammoth Italian
Harbor and Scores
Killed and Injured

By CARL C. CRANMER
Associated Press War Editor
Massive fleets of Allied aircraft, including hundreds of American Flying Fortresses, blasted at Axis industrial,
U-boat and shipping strongholds from Kiel in the north to Naples in the south, yesterday and today, causing heavy damage and by Axis account
a big loss of life.

Smashing at Naples, key mainland supply port for Tunisia, nearly 100 of Maj.
Gen. James H. Doolittle's four-motored giants carried out the greatest raid of the war on that city from French
North African bases Sunday.

While these were spreading a cloud across Axis hopes in the Mediterranean, another force of 133 American Fortresses thundered over the Renault tank
and motor factory at the outskirts of Paris in the greatest American raid of the war from Britain.

These blows were followed last night by Britain's big bombers which dropped more than 1,000 tons of bombs on Kiel, German naval base and U-boat building center, and Essen, second most blitzed city of the Reich, had its heaviest raid in recent weeks Saturday night.

Twenty-one ships were hit in Naples harbor, and the Italian high command, announcing big raids on nearby Salerno, Syracuse in Sicily and Carlotore in Sardinia as well, said 221 persons were killed and 387 injured at Naples.

The German-controlled Paris
raid, described the German raid as a "terror" attack, said 200 persons

Pétain Protests On Radio Renault Attack

London, April 5—(P)—Marshal
Philippe Pétain protested bitterly
on the Vichy radio yesterday
American air attack on the Renault motor works near Paris, terming it "new Anglo-American aggression."

Fighting French sources said
immediately that Pétain's protest against the raid, which he called
"justifiable by nothing," marked the French chief-of-government's complete abandonment of "the fiction which he had carefully fostered that he had some sort of understanding with Washington."

Pétain told the French people
he was providing "an authoritative regime which is wisest and meets the common sense of the great masses," and warned that "if Communist barbarity should triumph it would only destroy our civilization and our national independence."

Without mentioning French leaders abroad by name Pétain referred to as "rebel chiefs
(who) have chosen emigration and the past, while I have chosen France and the future."

County is Asked to Produce 3,000,000 Pounds of Salvage

Principals, teachers, and students of the schools of Warren county are uniting under the leadership of H. L. Blair, county superintendent of schools, in a head-on assault on the Salvage problem.
This announcement was made this morning by W. T. Corbett, chairman of the Salvage Committee.
Warren county has been asked to produce 3,000,000 pounds of scrap or the equivalent of three destroyers. The motto of the coming drive is "Get Those Destroyers!"
"Will we get them?" Superintendent Blair thinks so. In a letter addressed to teachers and pupils of the county he outlined an intensive drive for the salvage items
most needed at present, namely iron and steel scrap, and copper and brass scrap. The Warren County Salvage Committee will offer

BEAMISH STILL FIGHTS

Harrisburg, April 5—(P)—Richard J. Beamish, contesting an act of the assembly ousting him from the Public Utility Commission, retired today from an informal session of the commission so that official action could be taken excluding him from its deliberations.
"I am willing to go peacefully without the hand of a policeman

asserting he did not wish to hamper or interfere with the commission's activities but did not want to protect his rights for the court
test he said he desired.

Labor Laws In Spotlight

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
Washington, April 5—(P)—Labor legislation will occupy the spotlight in the house this week, and the course it takes is expected to depend largely on developments on the industrial labor front in the next few days.

After being sidetracked by the rules committee for some time, the much-talked about Hobbins antiracketeering bill was given the right of way and slated tentatively for consideration Thursday by the house leaders. It may be taken up before then, depending on progress made with other subjects on the week's program.

Originally designed to amend the 1934 anti-racketeering act to permit federal prosecution of individuals and labor unions for interference with interstate commerce, the bill introduced by Rep. Hobbins (D-Ala.) may become the vehicle for some major labor restrictions.

Farm Bloc Is Organizing To Override Veto

Nose Count Indicates 30 Votes Available to Sustain Executive

PARITY COMING NEXT

By Jack Bell
Washington, April 5—(P)—A farm bloc nose count indicated today the administration might muster upwards of 30 votes to sus-tain President Roosevelt's veto of the Bankhead bill but the measure's sponsors remained confident the senate would override.

Faced with the task of obtaining two-thirds approval of those voting to make the bill law over the president's opposition, the farm leaders were much more apprehensive of their chances in the house.
Administration lieutenants are counting on a heavy "city" vote
there if they fail to get one-third support in the senate to kill the measure, which would prohibit the deduction of government benefit payments from parity in establishing agricultural price ceilings.

Meanwhile, the senate agriculture committee arranged to start hearings tomorrow on another controversial parity measure, the house-approved Price bill, which would boost agricultural price settings.

FALL FROM TABLE IS FATAL TO YOUNG TOT

Jeannette, April 5—(P)—Willard Gray frequently worried about children playing along the nearby railroad tracks.

As he placed his four-months-old daughter, Barry, on a pillow on the dining room table Saturday, he heard a child's cry outside his home and dashed to the window.
When he turned around, his baby girl was lying on the floor, fatally injured. She had fallen from the table and broken her neck, Coroner H. Albert McMurray reported.

Deny Review In Treason Case

Washington, April 5—(P)—Max
Stephan, Detroit restaurant owner convicted of treason against the United States and sentenced to hang, failed today to obtain a supreme court review.
He was alleged to have harbored Peter Krug, a German aviator who escaped from a Canadian prison camp. Stephan is a native of Germany who became a United States citizen.
This was the first treason case acted on by the tribunal during the present World War.
Denial of Stephan's petition means that the decision of the lowest court sustaining the conviction remains in effect.

ASSAULTS IN DONETS BASIN BEATEN BACK

Russians Believed Clinging
To Bridgeheads on Southern Bank of River in North Sector

MANY ENEMIES KILLED

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, April 5—(P)—Supported by tanks and large air forces, the Germans battered at Soviet defenses northeast and southeast of Kharkov despite a lull on most other fronts, but the Russians announced today they had beaten back these attacks and added 200 more dead Germans to the toll of 1,000 which the midnight communiqué reported slain
in the region south of Izium.

Apparently clinging to bridgeheads on the southern bank of the northern Donets in this sector where the river flows in an easterly direction, Red Army units have knocked out approximately one third of the attacking enemy ground forces in every recent assault, recent front dispatches said.
There were no dispatches concerning current military operations in Moscow papers today,
but several stories told of farmers near the front lines preparing for the spring season to the accompaniment of heavy artillery
booming in the distance.

On the front west of Moscow, a detachment of Russian troops attacked an enemy position during the night and killed 70 Germans communiqué said. A number of prisoners were taken.

West of Rostov, it was reported,
the Germans attempted to carry out reconnaissance patrols, but were dispersed before they reached the Soviet defenses. Sixty Germans were reported killed.

Army Storing Of Supplies To Be Probed

Washington, April 5—(P)—An inquiry into what Chairman Truman (D-Mo.) described as "army hoarding" of foodstuffs and supplies that otherwise would have been available to civilians was projected today by the senate war
investigating committee.

The group called officials of the army quartermaster corps for testimony behind closed doors as other senate committees arranged to hear witnesses on a half dozen controversial questions, ranging from post war monetary problems
to a proposal to require senate confirmation of all federal employees paid more than $4,500
yearly.

Truman told reporters his committee had received information indicating that the army had overbought heavily in canned goods
and various other commodities,
pinching the commercial markets.
He said he was interested in getting some of these supplies turned loose.

LAWRENCE CO. HAS A PLANTING PROGRAM

New Castle, April 5—(P)—
James A. Kell, secretary of forests and waters, will speak Saturday
when New Castle Boy Scouts plant
the first of 25,000 evergreens in Hickory township, just outside
New Castle.

The Lawrence County Conserva-
tors, an organization formed by the county commissioners, ordered the trees from the state. The group proposes to reforest hundreds of acres of wasteland in the county in the next five years.

FORMER COMMISSIONER IS DEAD AT NEW CASTLE

New Castle, April 5—(P)—Attorney Charles H. Young, 67, member of the old Pennsylvania Public Service Commission from 1928 to 1932, died Saturday night of a heart attack.
He once served as referee and counsel for the State Workmen's Compensation Bureau and was a former Lawrence county district attorney. His widow and four daughters survive.

Boys Use Home-Made Tractor For Plowing

Harrisburg, April 5—(P)—Two teen-aged youths from suburban New Cumberland have gone into business with a home-fashioned tractor to plow up victory gardens for their friends and neighbors.
Paul Baubitz, a future machinist, and his brother Stanley, who hopes to be a farmer,
took a 1928 automobile from a junk pile, shortened the wheel base, rebuilt the motor and attached a plow.
Paul's job is to keep the contraption functioning while Stanley supervises the actual

Testimony On Financial Act Is Released

New $189,729,400 Measure Being Considered in
The House

HEARINGS SCHEDULED

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
Washington, April 5—(P)—Secretary of State Hull told congress today that the United States must demonstrate now its "sincerity of purpose" and willingness to bear
its share of responsibility in world affairs by extending the administration's authority to write reciprocal trade agreements.

His opinion was laid before the nation's lawmakers as the house appropriations committee released testimony on a new $189,729,400
financial measure, bundling up funds for the state, justice and commerce departments for the fiscal year of 1944.

Hull's testimony, describing the reciprocal trade agreements as of paramount importance in prosecuting the war and framing the peace,
came as the ways and means committee scheduled hearings on the extension act for one week from today.

Hull assured the committee that the state department "by every means at its command, will continue to put down the forces of aggression, to succor and sustain our allies and the unfortunate victims of the ruthless forces of darkness, and to demonstrate to all peoples that they themselves
may come to know that the principles which we stand as enun-ciators of."

Martin in No Hurry Forming a Federation

Harrisburg, April 5—(P)—Governor Martin told David L. Lawrence, Democratic state chairman, today that the present session of the legislature "will quite likely pass resolutions favoring some plan for enduring peace."

The governor made the statement in a letter to Lawrence replying to one in which the Democratic leader asked the chief executive to use his influence in support of a proposed federation of nations.
Asked to comment at his press conference on the proposed world
federation, the governor said
"those things are too big for us little fellows of get into, I'm for winning the war."

"If your house is burning up,
would you hire an architect to rebuild it before you get the fire department to put out the fire?"

Unique Search Comes to End

Pittsburgh, April 5—(P)—The army's three-day old nation-wide hunt for a soldier feared bitten by a rabid dog ended today when he was reported to the city's health office and was found to be unharmed.

Private Trentino Scarpino, 20,
of Pittsburgh, walked into the office of Dr. L. Hope Alexander, city health director, and said he was the much-sought soldier.

Dr. Alexander, after examining the soldier's leg, found to his relief that the skin was not broken and that merely his trousers were torn.
Scarpino thus did not require immunization.
The army had instructed officers at all its camps to try to locate the victim. A sailor and civilian, bitten by the same dog last Tuesday,
were located and given treatment.

Specific Cents - Per - Pound Prices Announced For Meats To Become Effective April 15

By IRVING PERLMETER

Washington, April 5—(P)—OPA today put specific cents-per-pound ceiling prices on retail sales of beef, veal, lamb and mutton, effective April 15, and said housewives would find them "in most cases less than the prices which consumers have been paying recently."

Similar prices on retail pork cuts went into effect on April 1. Today's standardization of top prices
by zones was designed by the Office of Price Administration to help restore order in retail meat distribution, upset for months by shortages, price rules that varied from store to store, alleged black-markets for sale of illegal meat at illegal prices, and other difficulties.

As in the case of pork, small independent stores will be permitted to charge one to three cents a pound more than chains or large independents (defined as stores that did more than $250,000 business
last year.)

Coupled with meat rationing, today beginning its second week, the new prices were said by OPA to provide "readily identifiable ceilings to shoppers in each city, town or hamlet x x x and strike a telling blow at black markets in meat x x x
and will make it impossible for black market operators to continue to pose as legitimate retailers."

Other purposes of the action,
OPA continued, were of provide relief for stores squeezed between low individual ceilings and recent advances in wholesale maximums,
and also to remove price differentials which formerly made it unprofitable for some stores with low ceilings to handle meat while neighboring competitors with high ceilings got fairly substantial supplies.

U. S. BOMBERS DISPERSE JAP SEA ARMADA

At Least Two Cruisers and Two Destroyers Reported to Have
Been Sunk

By the Associated Press
Flying Fortresses which never numbered more than 10 in three moonlight raids on Kavieng, New Ireland, 550 miles northeast of Port Moresby, have destroyed or dispersed a Japanese naval concentration of 13 warships and merchantmen, Gen. Douglas Mac-Arthur's headquarters announced today.

Eight of the ships in the concentration caught on Silver Bay and nearby waters were warships, and at least two cruisers and two destroyers were sunk, successive communications from Australia have announced.
For this considerable victory the Americans suffered only damage to some of their planes.

The last blow in the attack which began Thursday night, was struck last night when eight Fortresses swept in for the third time and damaged a light cruiser or destroyer and possibly damaged
three other ships.

While some of the fortresses were skip-bombing the ships attacking from so low a level that their bombs skipped along the water and hit the ships in the sides—others neutralized the Kavieng airport.
Elsewhere in the Australian theatre, Allied airmen planted 20 tons of bombs among Japanese positions in the Markham valley
above Lae, strafed the Salamaua and Kitchin Creek areas and struck at Timika in Dutch New Guinea, Langgoer in the Kae Islands and Saumlaki in the Taninbar islands to the northwest, as well as other targets to the northeast.

struction.

Important Meetings of War Loan Workers Are Arranged

Two important meetings of Second War Loan workers will be held in the court rooms of the County Court House April 8.

The first meeting of all women workers will be held at two in the afternoon in the large court chamber. This meeting will be addressed by Mrs. Andrew E. Sloan, Associate State Chairman, Women's Activities, War Savings Staff, and Miss Joan Wollaston, State
Field Representative of the same organization. Both women are admirably fitted to outline the duties of the women workers.

Speaking from their own experience, they will give clear, concise explanations of the various securities to be offered in the 2nd War Loan, tell how they may best be presented, and answer any and all questions workers may have. At the close of the meeting all workers will be presented with their complete "working kits".
The second meeting for all men workers will be held at 8 in the evening in the small court room.
At this meeting Mr. R. C.
Schmertz, Area Manager, Victory
Fund Committee, Pittsburgh, and Mr. W. B. Laberton, Field Director for Warren, Forest, Jefferson and eVango counties, will address the men workers.

WILL ATTEND CONFERENCE ON GAS BAN

Burgess Steber to Head Delegation Going to Pittsburgh On Wednesday

STOCKS INCREASING

Warren will be represented at the protest meeting to be held in Pittsburgh next Wednesday afternoon in the office of Mayor Scully, when a group of western Pennsylvania mayors will gather to discuss the discrimination in the distribution of gasoline. Burgess Steber, Steber, Don Smith, president of the C. of C. and Homer Mohr, of the Motor Club, will attend and others may also make the trip.

The meeting was called by Mayor Fred S. Whipple, of Meadville, who sent a telegram to the mayors of 25 western Pennsylvania cities last Friday after hearing an OPA announcement that an order will be issued soon to take Sharon, Fairfax, Sharpsville and Wheatland out of the district in which Warren is located. The order would place those four towns in District 2,
where four gallons of gas are allowed on each coupon.

The meeting will be held at 2
p. m. Wednesday and will be attended by representatives of the following cities: Aliquippa, Arnold,
Beaver Falls, Bradford, Butler,
Cambridge Springs, Charleroi,
Connellsville, Corry, Duquesne,
Erie, Franklin, Greensburg, Jeannette,
Johnstown, McKeesport, McKees-
Rock, Monaca, Monaca, New Castle,
New Kensington, Oil City, Pittsburgh, Titusville, Uniontown and Warren.

In this morning's issue of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette the following of interest here relative to the gasoline situation appears:
"Meantime, Ickes' desperate effort to drain the gasoline surplus of the western counties by diverting tank cars from fuel oil transport to gasoline, has broken down."
"In the two weeks succeeding Ickes' rejection of western Pennsylvania's plea for equality of treatment with 'her gasoline producing districts, stocks have increased by nearly 2,000,000 gallons."
"The failure of Ickes' announced intention of taking 14,000 barrels
a day out of the state's western oil fields is marked by the fact that he managed to cut stocks by only a little more than 400,000 gallons between March 4, when he began his attempt, and March 11, when the gasoline tide got away from him."

"By March 18 stocks had jumped more than 1,000,000 gallons and by March 25 the surplus was nearly 2,000,000 gallons. It is still climbing. At the latter date, stocks on hand in refinery storage reached 28,063,000 gallons, the highest figure since April, 1942."

"Those figures cover only refinery stocks of Pennsylvania produced gasoline. They do not include the millions of gallons of gasoline from Mid-west fields in storage in the district. Tanks of Standard of Pennsylvania and Socony Vacuum at Midland, alone amount to 15,000,000 gallons, with everything available filled to the brim."

"Gasoline is still coming up river
by barge to further swell the growing surplus. Shipments from Texas and Louisiana are barred by Ickes' edict, but millions of gallons

New Director For the Draft

Harrisburg, April 5—(P)— Lieutenant Col. George Hafer today succeeded Col. B. F. Evans
as acting director of the Pennsylvania Selective Service System for an indefinite time.

Governor Martin disclosed the transfer at his press conference, saying that General Lewis B. Her-shy, national Selective Service head, had requested Evans' aid in Washington "to do certain things."
The chief executive said the switch
was decided upon while General Hershey was in Harrisburg over the weekend, adding "we are trying to make every contribution to the war effort we can."

The governor said he did not know how long Evans would be in Washington. Lieutenant Col.
Hafer is a former Harrisburg attorney and former National Guard officer.

Paper On Insurance Well Received

Meeting for the first time in the Woman's Club on Saturday evening, members of the Social Science Section of the Warren Academy of Sciences heard Creed Erickson read a fine paper on "Life Insurance."

This related chiefly the development of the various companies and the respect in which they have come to be held. A considerable number of figures were quoted, showing approximately that six and one-half times as many persons have life insurance today as was the case in 1900; and that the average protection per person has more than doubled.

Te pointed out how life insurance companies are contributing to the welfare of the country and have undertaken nation-wide programs to acquaint policy holders and the public with good health practices, proper diet to prevent malnutrition and the admonition to visit their family physicians at regular intervals.

Stressed, also, was the fact that as a major war contribution, life insurance agents undertook the responsibility of selling war bonds, with the result that their efforts accounted for more than half of the payroll deduction plans set up during the year.

RUSSELL

Russell, April 5—District Deputy C. and Master Nelson and staff of Clarendon will be present at the L. O. O. F. meeting Monday evening, April 5th, to install the newly elected officers, noble grand, A. E. Lindquist; vice grand, Walter Mellor; trustee for 18 months, Orval Kirby. A luncheon will be served following the installation.

The Women's Society of Christian Service will meet at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the regular meeting. Mrs. Maynard Briggs is chairman of the program, the subject of which is "Christian Leadership in Four Latin American Countries."

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Methodist church there was a meeting to make plans for this week when the home visitation crusade of three conferences, Pittsburgh, West Virginia and Erie, under the direction of Bishop James H. Straughn, chairman of the evangelism of the Methodist church, has asked for the work to start at Russell Monday and continue until Friday. Rev. B. F. Howe of Frewsburg, Rev. Fuller of Lander, the pastor from Kennedy and the local pastor will work with the workers appointed to make these evangelistic calls, also for the purpose of getting membership for Easter Sunday.

The Woman's Bible Class business meeting has been postponed from Tuesday evening until one week from Tuesday.

Warren Boy Flies Bomber Here Saturday

Warren folk were given a close-up of one of Uncle Sam's newest and finest Flying Fortresses Saturday afternoon about 3 o'clock when one of the big machines flew over the city. Lieut. Emerson Baxter, Co-pilot and Engineering officer, of this city was in the machine on a cross country flight and he flew over Warren to salute his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baxter, West street and Virgil King of the Warren Airport, from whom he received his basic flight training.

Lieut. Baxter brought the plane low over the airport and dipped in a salute and then flew low over the city and made two circuits up Conewango Ave. and circled over his home.

His family watched the plane with much interest and when a handkerchief was waved they felt sure it was their son. However upon arriving at his destination he called them by telephone and told them of his visit home by air.

Lieut. Baxter was formerly with the Kirberger Jewelry store of this city and has a host of friends here.

Banquet At Baptist Church Well Attended

There was an attendance of 70 for the annual father and son banquet held Friday evening in the First Baptist church, when the following committee provided a fine chicken dinner and all the trimmings: Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Carlson, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. C. Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Claman, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hetrick.

T. L. Patterson acted as toastmaster and Loren Wright was pianist for the group singing led by R. L. Owens. Dr. J. A. Davidson, pastor, gave the invocation.

Following the serving and more group singing, Harold Knappenberger, Jr., gave a trumpet solo and Carl Moore, Jr., offered the toast to the fathers. H. D. Harris responding, Judson Hetrick gave a reading and Harold Knappenberger pleased with a vocal selection.

Chester R. Seymour, Boy Scout executive of Warren county, gave a fine talk on the obligations of a father to his son, stating that "father should give his son more time today than ever before if he wishes that son to grow up to be the man he wishes him to be."

Following a demonstration by Boy Scouts of Troop 46, movies were shown through the courtesy of the U. S. Forest Service, projected by George Spinney and John Claman.

TIMES TOPICS

EXPRESS WAS LATE
The Northern Express, west-bound, this morning was an hour and 20 minutes late in arriving in Warren. Engine trouble developed below Reno, was given as the cause of the trouble.

DETOURED THROUGH IRVINE
A broken flange on a box car tied up traffic between Corry and Oil City for a time Sunday. The evening passenger train, northbound from Oil City to Corry, was detoured via Irvine and passengers for way points were carried by bus.

FIRE OVER FURNACE
An alarm from Box 50 took the fire department to the home of U. F. Hibner, Edgewood Place, at 8:45 Sunday morning. Four joists and some wall board over the furnace had become ignited. The fire was soon quenched with a minimum of loss.

RESUSCITATORS ON DISPLAY
In the lobby of the Warren National Bank the two resuscitators presented to the city by Warren Lodge, No. 108, of the Loyal Order of Moose, were put on display last Friday. The machines attracted a large amount of attention and it is to be hoped that they may be placed on exhibition and demonstrated so that the public may become familiar with their operation.

CANNING SUGAR RATIONING
Final decision on sugar for home canning has not yet been reached. Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown stated at Washington, appearing before the senate banking committee considering legislation to establish an independent office of civilian supply Brown said rationing of sugar used in home canning would be unnecessary if an additional 600,000 tons were brought from Cuba. But this move, he added, would necessitate diverting ships from other runs.

PLANT MEMORIAL FOREST
Planting of a memorial forest in Wildcat Park at Ludlow for men who have gone to war from that town has been decided upon by the Ludlow Park Association. It is planned to secure seedlings from the state forestry department and to make the planting in the south end of the park, one of the beauty spots of this section. Park records show huge crowds visit the park and one day 8,700 persons were on the grounds.

INSTRUCTORS VOTE
First aid instructors holding their monthly meeting at the YWCA activities building Friday evening voted on a successor to J. Ray Shepard as Red Cross director, the appointment to be approved by Red Cross officials and to become effective when Mr. Shepard is called for the armed forces. Discussion of other first aid activities was followed by a talk on "First Aid in Highway Accidents" by Private Leslie G. Fobes, of the Pennsylvania Motor Police.

FENCING NOT RATIONED
Wire fencing of all types is no longer included in the list of items rationed by county farm rationing committees, it was announced today by the Warren County USDA War Board. Food Production Order No. 3, it was explained, has been amended to exclude this item from the rationing list. It will no longer be necessary for those wishing to purchase wire fencing to make application for purchase certificates either to farm rationing committees or dealers. In the past, dealers had been acting as agents for the rationing committees in issuing purchase certificates. Purchases may now be made, without a purchase certificate, from any stock of fencing on hand.

HIKERS SAW DEER
The raw wind and threatening weather of yesterday afternoon limited the Allegheny Hiking Club's attendance to five persons, including one newcomer, but these enthusiasts enjoyed a new and interesting trip for the club's 110th journey. They walked from General Joseph Warren Park up the Beech street hill, turning left through an old woods road to the junction of the Stone Hill and Yankee Bush roads and then across country to the summit of the next hill west and down into the upper end of Spade Hollow and up to the next western hill near the Loree farm. A deer was seen on the way. Turning south and southeast from there the group returned over the Academy lands to a point near the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing on Route 6 and thence to town. Those joining yesterday's journey were Virginia Johnson, Mary Maniakas, R. W. Mackay, George Monroe and Ike Reed.

Need Great For More Air Observers

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hansen, Franklin street, spent the weekend in Buffalo, the former attending on Sunday an all-day conference of the Aircraft Warning Service of the First Fighter Command, when all counties of the Buffalo-Pittsburgh region were represented by their district directors.

The sessions were under the direction of Capt. Dillon J. Howell, region ground observer officer of the First Fighter Command, and speakers were from Mitchell Field, New York State War Council and Buffalo region.

Object of the conference was to acquaint directors with the duties and responsibilities of ground observer personnel and during the day a tour was made through the information center, where the filter board was in operation.

Major Ralph Millet, of Mitchell Field, stressed the importance of the observation posts throughout this whole district, bringing out the fact that these posts not only are on the constant lookout for enemy planes, but are helping in a very large way to guide our own planes, manned by our own boys, across the country.

At noon the conference group had lunch at the Buffalo Athletic Club. Observation posts in Warren county are in need of more observers, according to Mr. Hansen, who asks that anyone who can give a few hours each week to this work will contact any of these supervisors: John Kinnear, Warren; Curtis Reid, Youngsville; W. V. Christian, Sheffield.

Applicants can assist materially in the reducing of time required to handle the applications by filling them in completely and signing their name. This has caused some delay in the past. Applications and renewals should be made from two to four weeks before the need arises.

The office is using volunteer help in an endeavor to get all applications processed and is indebted to the following for aid given: Ann DeFrees, Jane Hetherington, Mrs. Sidney Blackman, Mrs. E. M. Hyatt, Mrs. Bishop Yates, Mrs. Harry A. Thurn, Miss Margaret Nesmith, Mrs. Robert Walsh. The College Club has also volunteered to give aid and the board can use other help and volunteers will be appreciated.

A dum dum substance similar to that used by car manufacturers in side panel doors for deadening effect is now being used to spray the under part of fenders, running boards, frame and all metal underneath the car to prevent rusting.

Aid to Enemy

"Any American who willfully neglects to pay his taxes on time or to invest every cent he can in War Bonds is surely giving aid and comfort to the enemy. We have a job to do and we are all called for service to our country. Our dollars are called to service too. Let us all ask ourselves, 'Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?' — Secretary Morgenthau.

300 Women To Work In Making Warren War Minded

A new plan, through which Warren is becoming a community of municipal cooperation second to none, is well under way in this city, it was announced today by Mrs. Palmer Davis, chairman of the local Block Plan Service.

To be known as the "Block Plan," the system will touch every individual residing in this community. The plan, entirely voluntary in nature, will endeavor to secure the greatest possible cooperation from the citizens of Warren in every phase of the "home-front" war.

As suggested by the United States Office of Civilian Defense, as well as the New York State OGD, the Block Plan has already proven successful in many other cities throughout the country; notably, Syracuse, Buffalo, New York, and San Diego, California.

As a working organization for the Civilian War Service, the plan will function under the direction of Mrs. Davis, who has been appointed by the Warren Council of Defense.

Included in the war services program to fall under the jurisdiction of the Block Plan are all those civilian activities, other than protection (that is, air raid wardens, etc.), with which communities and individuals must be concerned as part of their contribution to the prosecution of the war.

Among them are: salvage, transportation, war savings, services for service men, recreation, health and medical care, welfare and child care, housing, education, agriculture, labor supply and training, and plant utilization.

The Block Plan will not in any way interfere with the air raid warden service, Mrs. Davis points out, but instead will co-operate with that service, bringing greater efficiency and coordination to the community.

In Warren, the Block Plan is being set up on a geographic basis, following much the same pattern as that now used by the Civilian Protection Service.

Working with Mrs. Davis will be two sector leaders for each of the ten sectors of the city. Each sector will be divided into from ten to twenty-three posts, depending upon the size and population of the sector. Post leaders will be aided in their work by the all-important block leader.

It has been estimated that between 200 and 300 women volunteers will become a part of this project, the largest community movement ever launched in Warren.

The possibilities of the Block Plan in Warren are limitless. It will be used at one time for the execution of a salvage campaign planned and supervised by the Salvage Committee of the Civilian War Service, and at another time for a house-to-house campaign sponsored by the War Savings Committee.

The plan will be instrumental in carrying vital information to every home about the use of foods which may have to replace rationed foodstuffs on the family menu. Block leaders can bring to every family essential information about rationing and price control. They can assist in the promotion of car-sharing and the conservation of our meagre rubber supply.

A major objective of the Block Plan will be to encourage a clearer understanding by all the people of the reasons behind the civilian war efforts and to develop a neighborly spirit of cooperation for war service. The plan hopes to promote block discussion meetings and rallies, allowing an exchange of ideas regarding specific phases of the war effort.

Plan to Get Cooperation

Warren Block Plan leaders are confident that the organization will create more enthusiasm and more understanding of the war effort than anything else has to date.

The manufacture of carpets was introduced from Persia into France about the beginning of the 17th Century.

As another class will be formed on Tuesday, April 13th and as the number of enrollees is limited, it is requested that those who desire to enroll for the next class, is asked to register at the Armory, on Tuesday night.

The members of the Warren Rifle Club, and the Complanter Gun Club who have charge of this Small Arms firing school are greatly pleased with the co-operation they are receiving from the local Warren Armory Board and to others who have contributed their time along this effort. As less than 5 per cent of the inductees have ever fired a rifle, the training received by anyone attending this small arms firing school will greatly assist him in the proper handling of firing arms when he is inducted into the armed forces.

A periodic chest X-ray is the best defense against tuberculosis a disease that can be in an advanced stage before any symptoms appear.

Dr. Rathburn To Read Films In X-Ray Tests

H. M. Mohr, executive secretary of the Warren County Tuberculosis Society, announces today that Dr. Walter Rathburn, of Newton Memorial Hospital at Cassadaga, N. Y., has consented to read for the local association the X-ray films to be taken in its "early diagnosis" campaign just getting under way throughout this county.

Dr. Rathburn's standing as a chest specialist and his experience in a sanitarium the size of Newton Memorial Hospital makes this announcement of utmost interest to those concerned in the project. Final arrangements have been made for the April 12 visit of the X-ray service in Sheffield, when employees of the Pennsylvania Bottle Company and the O'Connor Machine Company will comprise the group of nearly 500 to be X-rayed.

A committee of the Warren Lions Club, county sponsors of the tuberculosis work, was in Sheffield recently to confer with William Gallagher and J. M. O'Connor concerning arrangements. In the group were Mr. Mohr, Dr. I. G. Hyer and E. G. Garber.

R. Winfield Scott, field representative of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, is assisting another committee, consisting of Paul Yagge and H. M. Miller in contacting other local and county firms in the hopes of securing several return dates for the X-ray equipment.

Considerable stress is being placed on this early diagnosis campaign, ardently approved by the state association, because early diagnosis of the disease saves not only many heartaches but many man hours for the all-out war effort.

Because of the threatened wartime rise in tuberculosis, every possible precaution must be taken to prevent its increase in any community and citizens are urged to follow the example of the armed forces in getting chest X-rays.

Back of the current campaign is the aim of stressing periodic chest examinations by X-ray in order that tuberculosis will be discovered in its early and most curable stages. The effect of wartime conditions, including overcrowded housing and working conditions, increased physical, mental and emotional strain, are powerful allies of tuberculosis. Development of this germ disease depends on the individual's lack of resistance and every protective effort is being utilized.

Home Economics News

The care of clothing and household fabrics was the subject of Home Economics Extension meeting held last week at Corydon, Conewango, Stoneham and Rogertown. The same subject will be discussed at the Chandler's Valley meeting which will be held on Tuesday of this week.

Plans are being made for a meeting of the 4-H Club Local leaders of Warren County. This will be an all day meeting held in Warren on April 30. Miss Eleanor Winters, Nutrition Specialist, and Elsie Traubert, Assistant state 4-H Club leader of Pennsylvania State College will assist this meeting. Several 4-H Clubs have started planning their club work for the summer and much enthusiasm is being shown in the work.

This year emphasis will be placed on projects that will contribute the most to the war effort. Three new projects have been added to the clothing, foods, canning and lunch box projects formerly included in the program. These are: homemaker's assistants, care of children and outdoor co. okery. These promise to be of interest to many girls.

Any girls in communities where there are no active 4-H clubs who wish to start groups this summer should contact the Extension representative, Mrs. Thelma Prendergast, at the court house in Warren before April 30 if possible.

Welding To Be Featured In Movies Here

Three full ninety-minute programs of colored sound movies are being sponsored by the industries of Warren on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 6 and 7, in the YWCA gymnasium.

The pictures are of particular interest to men and women interested in electric arc welding because they are in full color and sound. The story they tell under the title of "The Inside of Welding" covers all the phases of approved modern welding technique.

The "right" and "wrong" ways of welding are humorously contrasted by a likeable character named "Joe Magee," who gets into all kinds of trouble, but points the way to better welding and safety.

The films are to be shown by courtesy of the General Electric Company, with George Cobb of the welding engineering sales division, Buffalo office, in charge.

The pictures are to be shown to the Struthers-Wells Corporation employees on Tuesday night at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, men and women from all local plants are invited.

Because of the great interest shown in these films and due to the limited seating capacity, it is not possible to invite the general public or wives of workers, but instructors in schools, executives, engineers, etc., are cordially invited whether they are actively engaged in the welding industry or not.

A number of local people have seen the films at sessions of the different technical societies in various parts of the country and are awaiting the showing with interest.

The Struthers-Wells band will give a concert during the display of the movies.

MOTORISTS NEEDED TO MAKE UNIQUE GAS SAVING TEST

Every patriotic Pennsylvania citizen interested in conserving our resources and saving gasoline for Victory will welcome the achievement of an American inventor. Already thousands of car owners are using his invention and they report gas savings up to 30% as well as more power, smoother pickup and quicker starting. The device, called the Vacuumatic Gas Saver, operates on the super-charge principle and its all makes of cars and trucks. It is entirely automatic and allows the motor to breathe. The manufacturers, the Vacuumatic Carburetor Co., 7617-6467 W. State St., Wauwatosa, Wisconsin, are offering a Vacuumatic free to those who will test it on their own cars or trucks and help introduce it to others. Write them today!

COGNAC INVENTORS

John Martell, an Englishman, and Hennessey, an Irishman, were the first to distill cognac and export it to Great Britain and its colonies. Their distillation took place in the French town of Cognac, from which the product derived its name.

BELLYACHE!

W. B. Lamberton, field director in Venango, Warren, Forest and Jefferson counties for the coming drive designed to sell 13 billion dollars' worth of War Bonds, is of the opinion that reproduction of the following advertisement from Martin's, a Brooklyn house, would help the sale:

BEWARE of that man who has no heartaches for the sufferings of war, but only a bellyache for what it costs! WHEN he tells you that this war will cost us two hundred billion dollars . . . tell him it's a bargain!

TELL HIM that his only about two years' national income and a mighty small price to pay for the richest heritage on earth!

TELL HIM that no man or woman worthy of the name ever worries about the doctor's bill when a loved one is in peril!

TELL HIM that what this war is going to cost in money is unimportant compared with what it's going to cost in sacrifice and suffering NOW! . . . and what it's going to cost in sacrifice . . . LATER!

AND TELL HIM, finally, that when the American Way of Life is a target for ZEROS and STUKAS, dollars and cents are not a proper subject for discussion!

All they're fit for is to BUY U. S. SAVINGS STAMPS AND BONDS!

BUY . . . BUY BONDS! . . . OR BYE . . . BYE LIBERTY!

SAME OLD BOTTLENECK

For a long time now the prime bottleneck in prosecution of our war against the Axis has been the same—shipping. In the beginning it acted principally to impede the importation of raw materials. We overcame that by stripping the civilian economy to the bone and substituting for everything possible.

Now we have succeeded in making more weapons than we can ship to the war fronts. Maj.-Gen. Levin H. Campbell, chief of ordnance, has announced publicly that the manufacture of ordnance is far ahead of production of ships to transport it. There are sufficient weapons lying around, waiting for delivery, "to drive the Germans to the bottom of the Mediterranean."

BREAK HER BACK

After the tanker Schenectady cracked, the Maritime Commission gave orders to the Swan Island yard to do its best deliberately to "break the back" of the next tanker, the Quebec.

After unusually tough trial runs the Quebec was put on the rack. Water ballast was pumped into center tanks until the bending force was 165 per cent greater than that which broke the Schenectady.

Accidents will happen, under high speed construction—but what the Quebec took, with only normal deflection, shows that Henry Kaiser doesn't plan to be caught twice by the same error.

DR. R. B. MERVINE

In the passing of Dr. R. B. Mervine at Lock Haven Saturday, Sheffield receives one of its saddest shocks and the entire county loses a most loyal citizen as well as a physician whose ministrations brought comfort and relief in thousands of homes over a long period of years.

Interested not alone in the welfare of those whom he met in a professional way, Dr. Mervine was known for his whole-hearted and sincere interest in whatever he was identified with. He was a doctor of the old school, who liked his job, residents of his community and those whom he served. These traits of character in the life of Dr. Mervine will be cherished memories for many years to come for all who had the pleasure of knowing him.

LENTEN SERMONETTE

ERIK DAHLHELM
Bethlehem Congregational Church

"Seek ye the Lord while he may be found."

So one of the Hebrew prophets pleaded with his people long ago.

Since then world empires and civilizations of many kinds have come and gone and the face of the earth has changed. But the prophet's call to his people—what a word for this Lenten season of 1943!

We are facing alternatives today. We may accept as inevitable the breakdown of our civilization and follow pagan leaders into a dark future or we may accept Christ, putting God in His rightful place in our lives as individuals and in the life of our nation.

Which shall we choose? There are encouraging signs. They are praying in the foxholes. David Lawrence fills his column, read by millions, with excerpts from Madame Chiang Kai-Shek's confession of faith. But what about the home front as a whole? Are we not as yet too busy making money and worrying about what we shall eat to consider first things first?

Victory on the battlefronts will not defeat the disintegrating forces at work in the world today. We need to go back to our altars, our churches, our synagogues, back to God.

Just a Matter of Time

Washington in Wartime

(First Of Two Articles)
By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Just why one of the best legislative stories of recent weeks has been more or less ignored is something of a mystery.

It's the so-called "Rehabilitation bill." With little more than a murmur, it passed the Senate and then the House without the necessity of a record vote. But with the possible exception of the raise-in-pay bill, this probably is more important to our armed forces than any measure voted since the first draft bill.

HERE are some of the reasons why:

(1) Under this bill every person honorably discharged from the armed forces before the end of this war for reasons of health, aggravated by training ordeals, or disabilities incurred in training or combat, will have access to the Veterans' Administration's rehabilitation training program.

(2) This means that for up to four years, these persons will be paid from $60 to $100 a month (according to dependency obligations) and given other benefits while they are studying to take their new places in vocations to which they are suited.

(3) That even when this bill was being prepared, which was before casualties were being returned from North Africa, India, and other recent hot spots, there were more than 800 such persons in the United States. Military experts warn that our casualties will probably run into the millions.

On the measure, all any man or woman who has been discharged from the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Marines, or Merchant Marine for reasons of health need do is apply to his or her nearest Veterans' Administration regional office to come under the benefits of this new bill.

The ink is hardly dry on the bill, but I understand that the Veterans' Administration already has its machinery rolling and within a few weeks or months will be expanding the vocational training and hospitalization programs to take care of every case as it comes along.

and point out that most of these will be disabled, or slightly wounded (because of new advances in medicine). That means the new rehabilitation law might well turn into our greatest federal-financed program of vocational education.

Just before the Senate voted on the bill, Sen. Chan Gurney of Yankton, S. D., offered amendments which made it "him or her" all the way through. Sen. Bennett Champ Clark, of Missouri, author of the bill in the upper chamber, accepted the amendments without objection.

The House, which had a similar bill sponsored by Rep. John Rankin (of Mississippi) Committee on World War Veterans' legislation, also doffed its hats to the Waacs, Waves, Spars, etc., when it passed the bill.

WITH the President's signature, on the measure, all any man or woman who has been discharged from the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Marines, or Merchant Marine for reasons of health need do is apply to his or her nearest Veterans' Administration regional office to come under the benefits of this new bill.

The ink is hardly dry on the bill, but I understand that the Veterans' Administration already has its machinery rolling and within a few weeks or months will be expanding the vocational training and hospitalization programs to take care of every case as it comes along.

Hollywood Gossip

HOLLYWOOD — Clarence Brown, the director, was supposed to start "The White Cliffs of Dover," based on Alice Duer Miller's poem, but the script wasn't ready. M-G-M asked him to do another picture while waiting, so he went to the shelf and looked over what he had.

"That's how I came across 'The Human Comedy,'" he says. "I got excited right away, and I stayed excited."

The finished picture, now on display, is causing quite a lot of audience excitement, more than a little critical ditto, and heaps of the same in the M-G-M exchange.

This is the William Saroyan story which the writer himself wrote to direct. The same story he described as "beautiful and simple" and "the simplest thing I've ever done." Saroyan left Metro in a huff when they took a look at the short he did direct and said he couldn't make the feature. That was why it was lying around when Clarence Brown came on the scene.

BY COINCIDENCE, Saroyan during his brief stay at Metro had moved into Brown's old office. When Brown returned, he moved back where Saroyan had departed. He lived there during the making of the film, sleeping on a cot—eating, sleeping, breathing that story.

"I loved those people," he says. "Six years ago I made 'Ah, Wilderness' and it dealt with the same sort of good, God-fearing small-town folk as this story

American People Face Acid Test in Treasury's 2nd War Loan To Raise 13 Billion Dollars in Three Weeks

The Nation Dare Not Fail in This Greatest Financing Task in History—"They Give Their Lives—You Lend Your Money."

Washington, D. C.—Coming as it does upon the heels of income tax payments, the people of America will face an acid test this month when the Treasury's Second War Loan drive opens April 12 with an objective of thirteen billion dollars to be raised through sale of Government securities.

A substantial part of this huge financing, the most stupendous ever undertaken by any government in the world's history, must be loaned by people in ordinary walks of life.

High Government officials have pointed out that the nation must not fail in this duty to our men on the battle fronts who are now carrying the offensive to the enemy at every stage. It is obvious to every thinking man and woman that as the United Nations take this offensive against the dictators, the cost of war operations increases in proportion.

The American people must no longer think of war costs in terms of equipping a soldier, building a tank or plane or a ship. We must now think in terms of the cost of battles, invasions and new offensives. Attacking armies cost more money than equipping that army and we must meet that increased cost by buying more War Bonds and Second War Loan Securities.

They Give Their Lives.

It is not only necessary that the American people lend here at home assume this additional participation in the war effort—it is an honor to do so . . . for we here at home can do no less than attempt to approach the sacrifices of our brave men out on the fighting fronts to whom the last great measure of sacrifice is but a daily offering. They give their lives . . . we are asked only to lend our money.

And that is the theme of the Second War Loan, "They Give Their Lives—You Lend Your Money."

Financial experts who know monetary conditions in the nation point out that at the present time there is in liquid funds, cash and commercial bank deposits over and above taxes and present investment in Government Bonds, and over and above what can be bought this year because of restrictions and rationing . . . approximately 40 billions of dollars which should go into Government Bonds.

It should be the objective of every American to invest these loose dollars, idle dollars, in Government securities, not only from a patriotic standpoint, but from the standpoint of their own financial security. There is available during the Second War Loan a type of Security to fit every pocketbook.

Are Wild Dollars

Every dollar of these forty billions of dollars available, which is not invested in Government securities during this War Loan Drive is a "wild" dollar which, together with its mates, will tend to increase inflation. Uncontrolled inflation might raise the cost of living to a point where the dollar is worthless. It can happen. It happened in Germany after the last war when the price of a loaf of bread cost more than an annual wage.

Invested in Government securities, your dollar will work for you. It will hold down inflation because it is harnessed in war work; it will help buy food, transportation, munitions for our boys on the front lines and it will be earning interest that, together with your original loan, will come back to you later to help you buy the things you cannot buy today. . . . to insure your peace of the future.

Remember those boys out there . . . in Tunisia . . . in the South Pacific . . . They give their lives—You lend your money.

Maj. John L. Smith of the U. S. Marines has 19 Jap planes to his credit—Have you as many War Bonds?
Show all our American boys that you're doing your part on the home front to win the war. You've done your bit; now do your best—Buy more War Bonds.

DUROCHER RELATED TO SEE MATES

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Brooklyn, April 5.—(P)—Dolph Camilli and Arky Vaughan, the California ranchers, are scheduled to join the Brooklyn Dodgers late today and Manager Leo Durocher probably couldn't be any happier to see them if each brought a suitcase filled with sirloin steaks. After three weeks of training the Dodgers' infield still is as much of a puzzle as it was the day the club reported. Durocher has known all along, of course, that Camilli and Vaughan would be available and would fill two of the regular infield roles when the season opens April 21.

But their absence, because of personal affairs, has represented a tremendous handicap to any attempt to organize the Brooklyn inner defense. Arky, who was a shortstop for ten years at Pittsburgh, played third base for the Dodgers last year. Now he probably will have to move back to short, filling the void left by Dewey Reese's enlistment in the navy. This involves second baseman Billy Herman switching to third base and depends on Albie Glossop or Alex Kampouris making good at the Keystone position.

Glossop must prove he can hit before establishing himself as the regular second sacker. With the Phillies last year he batted .225 and in the two week-end exhibitions with the Red Sox he failed to get a safety.

MONTGOMERY RISKS TITLE BOUT TONIGHT

Philadelphia, April 5.—(P)—Bob Montgomery risks a title bout with lightweight champion Beau Jack in meeting Roman Alvarez of New York in a 10-round bout here tonight.

Montgomery, Philadelphia negro who is scheduled to face Beau Jack for the title on May 21 in New York, ruled a 3 to 1 favorite principally because of a decisive victory over Lulu Costantino in his last outing.

It is the first Philadelphia appearance for Alvarez, who has

TWO MORE WINS WILL TAKE CUP FOR WINGS

Detroit, April 5.—(P)—It's the psychology of the thing—and not the Boston Hockey club—that is worrying Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings today.

The big bad Bruin was tamed in Olympia Stadium again last night by a 4-2 score, a triumph that convinced Adams his team has more than enough power and speed to bring the time-honored Stanley Cup back to Detroit for the first time since 1937.

Trailing 2-1 as they entered the last period, the Wings pumped three goals through Sad Frankie Brimsek to make it two straight over the Bruins since the championship series opened. Two more victories, and the cup is theirs.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

Muncie, Ind.—With their second game against Cleveland cancelled because of weather conditions yesterday, the Pittsburgh Pirates today planned an intrasquad game before entraining for Indianapolis and a resumption of their series with the Indians on Tuesday.

Huck Geary, rookie shortstop, has informed club officials he will give up his war job at Buffalo and join the Bucs not later than Thursday.

Wilmington, Del.—Frankie Skaff, rookie infielder from Villanova College, may be the second baseman for the Philadelphia Americans for some time to come. Getting into yesterday's brush with the Phillies because Irving Hall complained of a sore arm, he slapped out a homer, double and single and handled eight chances without an error.

beat Bobby Ruffin, Terry Young and Ellis Phillips in scoring 11 knockouts and 23 decisions in 38 starts.

Hershey, Pa.—Manager Bucky Harris stand pat today on his decision to keep Earl Naylor, outfielder-pitcher last year, in the outer gardens this season. Naylor cracked a two-run homer yesterday although the Philadelphia Phillies lost to the Philadelphia Athletics. Harris also was pleased by the showing of Bill Webb, Rookie pitcher.

AT THE ELKS

The handicap events are still rolling along at the Elks Club and a tightening pressure starts closing the gaps with time running short and no outstanding scores registered to give a safe bet.

John Berdine and Harry Bittenbender took the glamor out of the Times-Mirror's recent sweep of the team events by crashing the doubles with 1260, which sounds plenty good from where anybody's sitting, but with another week remaining in the popular title race, anything can happen and probably will.

However, a plug for the News-men still can be taken care of with Bill Bunk hammering out a 626 set for the singles to hold a slim lead over Lauer of the National Transit pipe layers and Howard Clark still ahead by a good margin in the all-events.

Decker and Fitch are holding down second place in the doubles and Johnny Smith, also of the Transit, along with Bunk and Lauer, are all that are in the select 600 group.

High single—Bill Bunk, Times-Mirror, 626.
High doubles—Berdine-Bittenbender, 1260.
High triple—Times-Mirror, 3077.
High single—Jim Thomas, 280.
High all-events—Howard Clark, 1816.

Covering the Sports Front

By "BOB" JOHNSON

Picking an all-star team was bound to draw comment because you can't expect to satisfy everybody, as a letter on Friday proved from an anonymous writer who was disappointed in our selections.

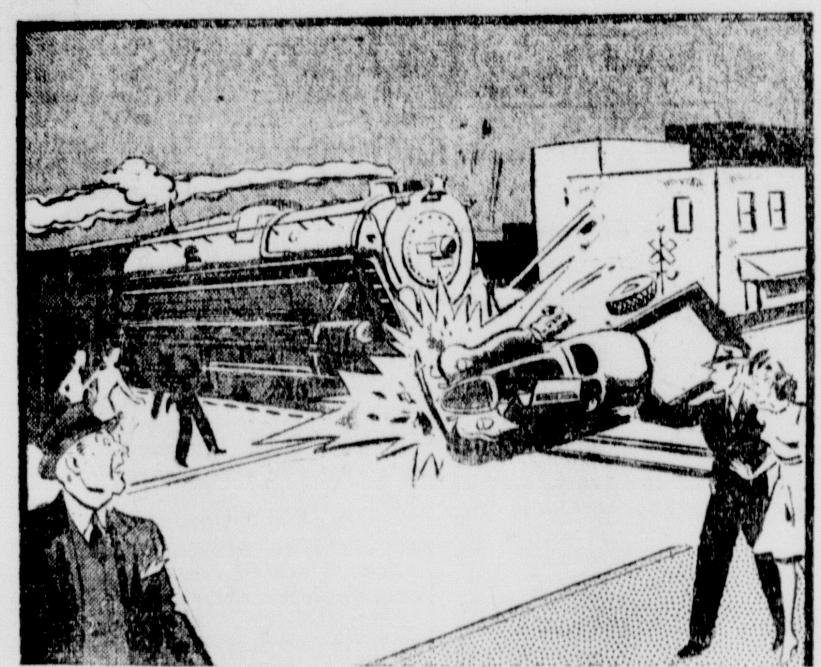

He (or she) didn't think it would be fair to select a team with only five men on it, so went ahead and picked one with ten men. Well, that's just what's tough about it—to pick a five-man team and everyone has on the limb.

Space is limited, so we can't print the team he selected, but only two changes were made by him in Nick Otto and Jim Eaton. We agree they both should rank high . . . And, if nothing else, it proves somebody reads this pillar.

Bowling beams in the spotlight now—in between basketball and baseball . . . Most leagues are at the summering stage and the next couple of weeks will find the top teams closing in on some heated sessions to decide championships.

It's still hard to name the Times-Mirror as the champ of the Elks Club handicap tourney because of dissent toward publicity accorded them . . . Most of those associated contend that when we named them "champs" we missed the right key by about four inches . . . Yeah, it sets up there in between the Y and I.

Look! Listen! Live!

"That crossing is harmless," he thought. He had crossed it hundreds of times as a youngster as he walked to and from school. He had crossed hundreds of additional times as the driver of a delivery truck. He had watched scores of trains rumble over that crossing.

But on the day of the accident illustrated here his familiarity with the railroad grade crossing was his death trap. A fast train roared into his small truck, tossed the motor through the air to crash against a nearby hotel. The driver and his helper were killed.

The driver, a local resident, was thoroughly familiar with the crossing—too familiar.

The National Safety Council is conducting a special campaign to stop these accidents, which every day delay an average of 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a damaging blow to the nation's war transportation effort. Driver carelessness is the cause of almost all grade crossing accidents. To help win the war—to save yourself and others needless suffering—the Council says, "be sure the track is clear before you start to cross."

HORSE PRAIRIE BY CLEM COLT

Chapter 1

WITHOUT care for the clerks or the wide-eyed customers, ignoring the shouts of the shotgun guard, the tall gaunt stranger in the brush-clawed chaps strode through the last gate and stopped by the desk with a hard, brash grin.

Behind the desk's satiny finish the honey-haired girl showed conflicting emotions as her glance swept over his trail-dusty garb and finally came up to his face with a frown. "Do you have an appointment with Mr. Haines?"

The tall stranger dragged off his hat with a flourish. "If I ain't," he said, "don't blame it on me. I've sure wore a groove in your doorstep tryin'—"

"I'm sorry," declared the honey-haired girl, "but Mr. Haines sees no one without an appointment." She picked up her pencil, held it poised suggestively. "If you'll give me your name . . ."

"Jones—" said the stranger. "Tubac Jones"; and the girl shrank back in astounded dismay.

"How did you get in here?" she gasped.

"Seems like I musta walked in, ma'am—I don't recollect nobody carryin' me." He gave her his grin again and, as though she were viewing the devil, she took fevered stock of the rest of him—the battered black hat and the dusty black hair curling out of its shadow, the worn pinto vest, the checked flannel shirt, the sporty checked trousers shoved into scuffed range boots.

She recalled the frantic instructions slammed out of the inner sanctum at her, gulped back her fright and recovered her poise. Once more she became the cool and polite Miss Lambert, indexible secretary of the great Mr. Haines, profound and scintillating head of the Stockman's Bank & Mortgage Loan.

"I'm sorry," she said, "but—" "That's quite all right, ma'am. You just trot on in an' tell that swivel-eyed pirate he's comin' out here or I'm coming in."

MR. JONES' black scowl looked so ferocious she had jumped up and was reaching for the door when the shotgun guard put his car in. He jabbed the snout of his shotgun into Mr. Jones' back and, as though as the part of his breathing would let him, said: "All right, you! Git a wiggle on— pronto!"

And Tubac Jones certainly did. He reared around like a clout-stung grizzly, yanked the weapon from the startled guard's hands

"Do you have an appointment?" she asked.

and with one quick blow broke its back on the gate rail.

The guard let out an infuriated howl. "That gun cost—"

"Go away," Jones said, "before I hurt you."

The door banged violently open and an angry face framed in nut-ton-chop whiskers peered furiously into the outer defences.

"What in—"

The falsetto squeak ran off key and stopped; the gimlet moon stayed open, gaped, the astounded eyes nearly popped from their sockets. With a bleated oath the man grabbed for the door but Tubac Jones put a boot in the way of it.

"Well, well!" he drawled with a vast satisfaction. "If it ain't the great 'Hi Grab' in person—galusses, yaller shoes, mutton chops'n ever' thing!"

Haines, fairly frothing, grabbed Jones' arm and yanked him into the office. Somebody kicked the door shut. The banker was just about fit to be tied. By his look you'd have said he was kin to Vesuvius, and hunted quick cover to get out of the ashes. But Tubac Jones walked coolly over to the banker's chair, brushed some papers off the desk and coaxed his boots on it. He took a cigar from an open box as Haines hovered over him spluttering with rage.

"Well, gents," he said, looking round with a grin, "I see we're all here. Let's get down to brass tacks an' put our cards on the table. The first thing I want's a written agreement; a hands-off policy with all your names on it—"

"You'll get a bouquet with all our names on it," growled a copper-checked man who was short one finger, "if you don't make a dust for other parts pronto!"

"That's kid talk, Lot," Jones said, "an' you know it. You ain't got a leg—"

Lot Deckerman snorted. "For the last time, Jones, I'm servin' you warnin'. As General Manager an' Superintendent of the Stampede Hog an' Cattle Company, I'm orderin' you off the Holeman Grant. Be off it before sun-up tomorrow or I'll see you facin' a jail sentence—get me?"

"Sure it ain't Your darn range-grabbin' syndicate's got cattle runnin' all over the place—I've a good mind to pen 'em up fer trespass!"

"You lay hand on them cattle," Deckerman choked, "an' we'll string you up higher'n Hammon!"

Chapter 30

FOR a moment all other thought blotted out in Landa's mind but the one terrible realization. "Jim was shot!" She stumbled through the undergrowth toward him when he pulled himself to his feet, fell back against a tree and turned to shout at her. "Landa! Keep him covered from that rock over there!" Landa came to a dazed halt, her gaze obediently following Jim's pointing finger. She saw Hansen running for the lowest point of the rocky promontory and waving wildly at the cruising speedboat. She had forgotten him entirely. Jim's voice was raging. "Don—damn your lousy aim—get down there! They can't reach the boat—all you have to do is keep him from diving!" Landa saw Don standing as dazed as she was, looking at her. He knew she had seen him. Then suddenly, Jim's shouts stung them into action. By a half a second they cut Hansen off from the promontory, raced him ahead of them into cover of the jungle to escape the submarine gun that went into action from the boat. "Good work," grinned Jim as they came up to him. Hansen gasped a snarling retort, his eyes desperately following the speedboat. It turned, skimmed back along the shoreline once more, then vanished out to sea. Landa cried, "Jim—where are you hurt?" "Just a scratch on my leg, but I think I'll need a little help going back."

THEY made a slow way back to the hacienda, Jim hobbling between Landa and Don, Hansen walking ahead in silence. O'Shanessey strode in after they had Hansen locked in the storeroom and Jim propped on the sofa for treatment. "What's all this?" His great voice boomed vibrant anger. "Never mind," Jim said bluntly. "I'm putting you under arrest, O'Shanessey, as soon as the Coast Guard arrives—for aiding and abetting a saboteur!" "WHAT?" The Irishman's massive frame halted with visible shock. Then his laugh rumbled forth. "Trying to scare me, eh, Blair? Well, you picked the wrong man. Hansen's no saboteur! Even if he were, I'd like to see them arrest me on my own island! Abruptly he turned and struck a pan of hot water from Don's hands. "What do you mean lacerating for him?" Landa kneeling beside Jim said sharply. "Get another pan of water, Maria." She turned and went on cleaning Jim's wound. Apprehension softened O'Shanessey's voice. "Landa, girl, you were foolish in needlessly rushing out into danger. Now must you further exhaust yourself by doing servant's work?" Landa looked up at him, pity and anger blended in her eyes. "My rushing out wasn't needless. Uncle Mike," she said, "I screamed at the right time. Her accusing gaze rested fleetingly on Don, then returned to O'Shanessey. "Besides," she added with sudden tenderness, "it's not 'servant's work' to care for—the one you love."

YOUNGSHIRE NEWS

Youngsville, April 5.—The afternoon and evening groups of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and families united in a pleasant dinner meeting Friday evening, April 2nd, at 6 o'clock, in the Methodist church dining room. Tables were arranged in the form of a hollow square and decorated in spring flowers and pussy willows with green candles. Mrs. James Shippe was the program leader and Mrs. Ronald Bard led in songs about the table. Mrs. Dwight Jack led in the singing of two hymns. Rev. Dwight Jack led the devotionals and made a few remarks on the plans of the local church. Miss Helen See gave a reading and special musical numbers were a duet by Freeman Brown, saxophone, and Vernon Jones, piano, and vocal solo numbers by Miss Lilly Wood. Mrs. Shippe introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. C. C. Davis, of Union City, Erie Conference president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, who gave a very inspiring address on the objectives of this organization and mentioned one of special interest to Warren county organizations that of liquidating by voluntary gifts the present debt of the Sheffield Home for Children, by Founders Day. Following the program short business sessions were conducted by Mrs. Nellie Anderson, president of the evening group, and Mrs. H. H. Huston, president of the afternoon group, of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Reports of secretary and treasurer of each society were given. The united group discussed the holding of a rummage sale and Mrs. Dorothy Crandall was appointed a special treasurer to receive gifts for the Sheffield debt fund.

"Iokes" arbitrary diversion of tank cars from fuel oil transport to gasoline cargoes to justify his refusal to afford relief to western Pennsylvania refineries and motorists, is reflected in total figures covering east coast stocks of gasoline and fuel oil.

"With winter still holding on the northeastern coast, fuel oil stocks went down in the week from March 20 to March 27 by 427,000 barrels. But gasoline stocks went up 443,000 barrels. These figures are official from the American Petroleum Institute.

"Oil men, with years of service in the industry, say that this is the first time they have known fuel oil shipments to be cut and gasoline shipments to be increased in the winter season."

Siggins in refusing to recognize Beamish as a member of the commission said he acted on the advice of Attorney General James H. Duff.

In the house, convening at 9 p. m., Speaker Ira T. Fiss promised "all revenue bills will be moving" this week. He said action had been delayed until a means had been found to finance proposed teacher pay increases amounting to $26,766,000 a biennium.

As the PUC considered Beamish's status, the Republican majority in the senate called a caucus for later in the day to decide the fate of three controversial bills before it and the house promised quick action on revenue measures representing Governor Martin's financial problems.

Beamish, at first demanded action by the commission in his presence to formally exclude him from its deliberations but Chairman John Siggins, Jr., said no session of the commission would be held while Beamish was present.
